

Clinical Psychologist Vacancy

Psychology Associates is a dynamic, creative and expert independent practice of like-minded clinicians who are all passionate about making a meaningful difference in people's lives. We are looking for a HCPC Registered Clinical Psychologist to join our team who has experience in providing therapeutic support to children, young people and families.

This post will include providing children and families therapeutic intervention and providing support to a Parenting Assessment unit including staff training, assessment and therapy.

Training and Development Opportunities

Psychology Associates has a robust commitment to training and we take great pride in maintaining high levels of CPD amongst our team. This role will include:

- Plenty of opportunities to get involved in a wide range of clinical interventions.
- Access to monthly specialist supervision.
- Support to enrol on to the DDP Practicum and DDP Supervision.

If you would like to join a team that is continually striving to make a meaningful difference, through creative and dynamic support and interventions, then we'd love to hear from you. We are committed to improving diversity and welcome all applicants.

A Person Specification and Job Description will be provided with every application form.

The successful candidate should have excellent organisational and communication skills, should be highly motivated and be able to manage their workload to meet deadlines.
